

Eco-Tourism Guide to Satabhaya, Odisha

Where the Sea Rewrites the Shoreline & Stories of Survival Echo

Location & Context

-  Region: Kendrapara district, Odisha
 -  Coastal Zone: Bay of Bengal shoreline
 -  Coordinates: Near Bhitarkanika National Park
 -  Climate Note: One of India's most vulnerable villages to sea-level rise and coastal erosion
-

Ecological Significance

Satabhaya sits at the intersection of marine biodiversity, mangrove ecosystems, and climate impact zones.

Nearby Biodiversity

- Bhitarkanika National Park (adjacent):
 - Saltwater crocodiles
 - Mangrove forests
 - Kingfishers, egrets, and migratory birds
- Marine Life: Crabs, mudskippers, and estuarine fish

Coastal Flora

- Mangroves (Avicennia, Rhizophora)
 - Casuarina plantations
 - Salt-tolerant grasses and shrubs
-

Eco-Tourism Highlights

Spot

Features

Activities

Satabhaya Beach	Eroded coastline, ghost village remains	Coastal walks, erosion study tours
Bhitarkanika NP	Crocodile sanctuary, mangrove trails	Jungle safaris, birding, boat rides
Pentha Coastline	Cyclone fencing, climate adaptation zone	Disaster resilience demos
Local Villages	Resettled communities, oral histories	Cultural immersion, storytelling

Eco-Stay Options

Nature Camps (Bhitarkanika)

- Solar-powered tents
- Guided mangrove walks
- Local cuisine & tribal performances

Homestays (Resettled Villages)

- Learn from climate migrants
 - Participate in daily routines
 - Support community-led tourism
-

Activities for Visitors

-  Crocodile spotting in Bhitarkanika creeks
 -  Mangrove ecology walks with forest guides
 -  Coastal erosion photography & sketching
 -  Interviews with displaced families
 -  Beach clean-up and awareness drives
-

Responsible Travel Tips

-  No plastic—use cloth bags and steel bottles
 -  Respect local customs and privacy
 -  Buy local—handicrafts, palm leaf items
 -  Stay on marked trails and eco-zones
 -  Learn before you go—climate literacy matters
-

Getting There

 Mode  Details

 Air Bhubaneswar Airport (~150 km)

 Rail Cuttack or Bhadrak stations

 Road Via Rajnagar → Gupti → Satabhaya

 Boat From Gupti to Bhitarkanika creeks